Dear Friends and Collectors,

Just a few things to mention as I know you are busy with your end of the year wrap-up...

I will be exhibiting my paintings at WallFlowers Gallery in Bernardsville, NJ. The reception is this Friday night Dec 7th (6pm-9pm). This exhibition is part of the Bernardsville Art Walk. Maps of other galleries and shops participating in this free event are available at the gallery. WallFlowers is a wonderful place and combined with excellent restaurants in the area, it should make for a special evening.

Also, I will be teaching a very special art class for adults this January. We will be painting here in my Caldwell, NJ studio. I am very much looking forward to this.

Studio Art Classes

I'm thrilled to announce I will be teaching a very special art class for adults in my studio in January 2008. For years my collectors have been encouraging me to do this, but I wanted to make sure it wouldn't take time away from my own painting schedule. Finally, I've arranged things to make this art class happen, and I am very excited about it!

The class size will be small, so openings are limited. Students should already have a basic knowledge of painting (Advanced Beginner - Intermediate). We will be working in oil from a natural still life on small canvases.

If this sounds like a painting adventure you would like to experience, contact us ASAP to reserve your space. The class is already filling up, and I only have a few more spaces available. Click here for more information and class form.
